

SARATOGA TO GREET MUNSEY TOURISTS

Numberless Attractions of Historic Interest for Automobile Pilgrims.

PATHFINDERS SECURE SPLENDID QUARTERS

Beautiful Resort Will Be At Season's Height When the Cars Arrive.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 1.—After a day spent in Saratoga making arrangements for the arrival of the tourists next month and in visiting places of historic interest, the pathfinders for the Munsey tour left here this morning in their 12-14 F. car to take the road through Ballston, Amsterdam, Tribes Hill, and Cooperstown.

During their stay in Saratoga the Munsey tourists will have a chance to see one of the finest natural resorts in the world during the height of the season. Saratoga has the greatest collection of mineral springs in existence and thousands of persons representing the wealth and fashion of this country flock here during the summer months.

The "High Rock," on Spring street, is perhaps the most famous of all the springs and the one which made the place widely known. It is a peculiar formation of rock, shaped like a cone, with the water bubbling from the top. Such a rare natural curiosity awed the Indians in olden times and they worshipped it as the gift of the Great Spirit. They well understood its healing powers, and when Sir William Johnson, their friend, the colonial governor before the revolution, was taken ill they carried him on their shoulders to this place from the eastern part of the State. The governor was cured, and the fame of the spring spread among the colonies. The "High Rock" can still be seen and the water is just as efficacious as ever.

Attractions Are Numerous.
The various estates about here, the parks, and the views from the outskirts of the village will be added attractions for the tourists. A short distance away is Schuylerville, the scene of the battle of Saratoga, where General Burgoyne was defeated. In the yard of General Schuyler's home at this place is the spot where the British spy, Lovell, was hanged. Bemis Heights, where one of the bloodiest actions of the battle took place, can be seen, and the old Marshall House, which during colonial times, was once the home of the Baroness Riedesel, is still in existence. The headquarters of the Munsey Historic Tour in Saratoga will be the famous hotels in this country. Manager Gage is enthusiastic about the tour, and will provide splendid quarters for the tourists. The cars will be parked in the large lot in the rear of the hotel, and will be guarded by a detail of police. Arrangements have also been made to have a tank wagon on hand to furnish gasoline in unlimited quantities. The tourists will find the United States one of the best hotels on the route of the tour. It has the distinction of having housed more notable people than any one hotel in the country, and around it cluster many pleasant memories. The building covers an inclosure of seven acres, and the extensive piazzas being a prominent feature.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., July 1.—Senator Porter J. McCumber, stalwart, and Representative A. J. Gronna, insurgent, have been nominated for the United States Senate, according to the official returns in the North Dakota Republican primaries. Gronna will succeed the late M. N. Johnson.

For Congress D. B. Hanna, stalwart, was nominated for re-election, while H. T. Helgeson, insurgent, was nominated to succeed Representative Gronna. In the gubernatorial contest C. A. Johnson, stalwart candidate, defeated J. A. Buchanan, insurgent.

WEST VIRGINIA OIL FIELDS Promise Quick and Sure Returns for Investors.

West Virginia is coming to the front as the great oil-producing State. So much has been said of the West Virginia coal, timber, and natural gas products that oil has been overlooked until this year, when marvelous development of new oil fields has been in progress. Hon. Charles W. Swisher, late Secretary of State and nominee for governor of West Virginia two years ago, has joined with his brothers in organizing the Swisher Brothers Oil Company. This corporation already owns a big developed property which pays $25,000 profit a year. These producing wells, also the undeveloped property, are in Tyler and Ritchie counties, W. Va. In all, there are 1,250 acres awaiting the driving of wells and the usual development of oil fields.

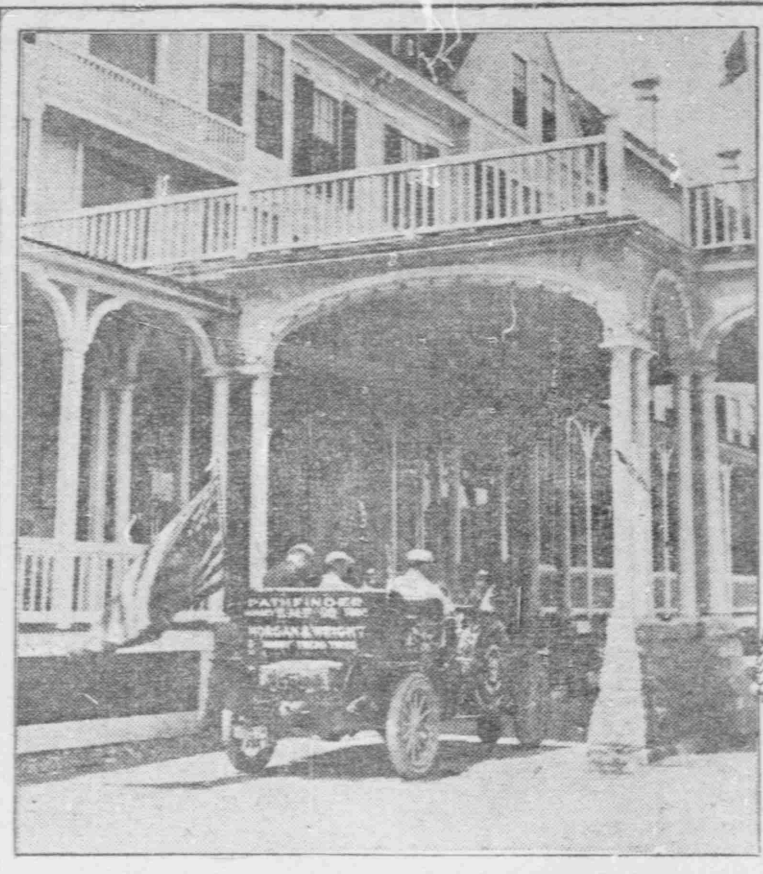

This new company, of which Charles W. Swisher is president, has a capital stock of $175,000, fully paid up and non-assessable. Of this stock, shares valued at $7,000 will be sold at par; shares $35 each. This stock will surely pay 12 per cent dividends from the start, not to mention its value as development goes on. This stock is being sold solely to hasten the development of the new fields. Once development is well under way the dividends will be increased. This will be apparent to anyone looking into the proposition. It appeals especially to salaried people—men and women in Government service or in Washington business life, who wish a permanent and rapid increase in income. Subscription books are now open at Charleston, State capital of West Virginia, and will close July 31, 1910, a fact worth noting by those seeking a safe, permanent and quick paying investment, yielding 12 per cent from the start. Address for information and details, CHARLES W. SWISHER, Charleston, W. Va.—Adv.

WAR PENSIONERS RAPIDLY VANISH

Last Survivor of Civil War
Will Disappear In 1955,
By Bureau Guess.

The last survivor of the civil war will be drawing a pension from the United States Government in 1955, according to estimates from the Pension Office today.

The "old man with the scythe" is wreaking more havoc with the ranks of the Grand Army than was wrought by shot, shell or bayonet in the great struggle in '61. It is stated that each year finds 32,000 less pensioners answering the roll call, meaning that ninety "C" each day of the year.

There are no mortality records of Confederate veterans because of the absence of any general pension service. Of the vast Federal army of 2,213,265 who fought in the civil war, only 993,000 were living in 1900, and the actual number of survivors on the pension rolls June 30, 1909, was but 592,961.

There are no surviving veterans of the Revolution or the war of 1812. The last Revolutionary hero, Daniel F. Bakeman, of Freedom, N. Y., died in 1895. The only pensioner on account of the Revolutionary war now living is Mrs. Phoebe M. Palmer, of Brookfield, N. Y., who is eighty-nine years old. Her father fought in the Revolution.

SMUGGLER CONFESSES.
SAVANNAH, July 1.—W. H. Rowe, special agent of the United States Treasury Department, who assisted in arresting Charles C. Chisholm for smuggling opium into the United States from Mexico, says he has a confession from Chisholm which is sufficient to convict him or individually in New Orleans, New York, and Philadelphia. Arrests will be made in a few days, he adds.

Happy Home.

TOLEDO, July 1.—George H. Ketcham, a millionaire theater owner, known all over the United States by reason of his former ownership of Cresceus, the famous trotting horse, was sued today for $50,000 by Clifford R. Briggs, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

OHIO POLITICIANS FAVOR LONGWORTH

Signs Point to His Nomination As Candidate for Governor
Against Harmon.

That the signs are pointing more and more to the nomination of Representative "Nick" Longworth for governor of Ohio by the Republicans is the talk of Buckeye State politicians here. Various conferences with Ohio politicians were held by President Taft before he left. These conferences did not get very far except that they made it quite clear the convention was to be held and that any deals which have been entered into thus far as to states are to be discouraged. President Taft is said to have a predilection for Longworth, as do a good many of the Ohio leaders. This predilection is based on the belief that if Longworth is nominated, Theodore Roosevelt, his father-in-law, will get into the campaign to help elect him against Judson Harmon.

PLAN ELIMINATION OF OBSOLETE WORDS

Pastors and Editors Agree on Changes In King
James' Bible.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The conference of clergymen and editors for the purpose of arranging a tercentenary edition of the English authorized version of the Bible, in session at Taconet, N. J., for the last ten days, has adjourned, and the remainder of the work will be done by the subcommittee.

The object of the work is to bring out a new edition of the King James version, correcting obsolete words, etc. The changes to be made were summed up as follows:

First. Where a text is misleading it will be changed, as an instance in point: The word "damnation" in 1st Corinthians, xl, 29, may be changed to "condemnation."

Second. Where the authorized version has an obscure rendering of a passage sufficiently clear in the Hebrew or Greek text, it will be changed.

Third. Also where the authorized version is ineffectual in the choice of English words, even if not actually misleading.

Fourth. Words absolutely obsolete will be dropped for words now within the usage of good writers. The point was discussed that "halt" is still good English, and while not so common, is more dignified than "limp." The word "let" or "hinder" was considered obsolete.

It is understood that the modern usage will be followed thoroughly in the use of pronouns, and, generally, where an authorized version rendering is wholly consistent with good present day custom.

It is planned to have this new edition printed in England in May, 1911, 30 years after the printing of the first edition of the Bible.

While the committee proper has adjourned, two committees, each consisting of three persons, one on the new and one on the Old Testament, will continue their sessions throughout the summer at Asbury Park.

It was learned that at the session of the larger committee there had been considerable agitation for a revision of the Bible.

Prof. Robert Dick Wilson said that the committee would do no revising, as those who desired the Bible revised had been defeated, but that there would be an adherence to conservative lines, merely replacing old English words whose meanings have gradually changed, with modern words more clearly expressing the intended meaning.

THOUSANDS SEEK DISTRICT POSITIONS

Establishment of New Workhouse Produces Rush of Applicants.

"How many applications for positions in the District government are on file?" was asked of Dr. William Tindall, secretary of the Board of Commissioners today.

"Thirteen million, nine hundred and ninety-nine," interrupted Waldo Hibbs, secretary to the Commissioner, before Dr. Tindall had time to answer. "I have just finished counting them."

Further inquiry, however, developed the information that Mr. Hibbs' figures are exaggerated. There are, however, between 4,000 and 5,000 citizens in Washington who are willing to devote their services to the District, and, according to Mr. Hibbs, the majority have called in person to inform the Commissioners of this fact.

The establishment of the new District workhouse at Occoquan, Va., has increased the rush of applicants. Between twenty and thirty guards are to be appointed, ten of whom have already been selected. For the last two weeks Commissioner Rudolph has devoted a considerable portion of each day to the consideration of requests for positions. No further appointments, it was announced today, will be made until the end of next week.
